EAGLE '85

BERMUDIAN SPRINGS
HIGH SCHOOL

YORK SPRINGS, PENNSYLVANIA
VOLUME XXIII

We, the 1985 Yearbook Staff, would like to take this opportunity to wish our fellow classmates the best of luck in everything they strive to accomplish.

As we all know, these four years we have spent in high school are the "best years of our lives," and with each day that passes, graduation is one step closer for all of us. Then we must all set forth sailing alone in the wind on the open sea, using the knowledge and wisdom we have gained here at BSHS to help guide us safely through the storms; until someday (when) we reach our destinations.

This book symbolizes a Captain's Log; recording dates, faces, and occasions of this four-year journey of growing and learning. Although we all may have different entries, still we are all bound by a common bond, the memories we have shared together here in this vessel of learning . . .

Bon Voyage,

Roger Mith

*Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Hail to thee our Guide of Mind,
Thou hast taught with-in thy borders,
We should serve man-kind.*

*Hail to thee Bermudian Springs,
Hail to thee both red and gray,
Here we learn to be courageous,
As you help us on each day.*

*Thank you for our education,
That true concepts do provide,
And for training that's unending,
As we meet the world so wide.*

*And as we go through life's long journey,
To an end we can not see,
We'll not forget our Alma Mater,
In a land so rich and free.*

WHO'S WHO

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

During the past four years there have always been some people who have continually managed to find success in everything they do. The senior class feels that Roger Miller and Molly Dickmeyer will still be climbing the ladder of success long after graduation and it's because of this determination to be the best they can be, they have been voted "Most Likely to Succeed."

MOST MUSICAL

Remember back in January of 4th grade when we got to choose the instruments that we would learn to master in the next 8 years? We all thought we would end-up Maynard Fergusons or a next Buddy Rich. Over the years there has been two people who could always be found practicing for band, singing in the chorus or always tapping their foot to a song in their head. Two such people are Tracy Shank and Brian Holtzinger and it is because of this desire to express themselves through music that they have been voted "Most Musical."

MOST SPIRITED

The senior class is overflowing with spirit and the two individuals most responsible for this are Becky Lescalleet and Scott Hoak. Whether they are on the playing field or on the sideline they can always be found giving 110% to cheer BSHS on to victory. It is because of their overwhelming enthusiasm that the senior class has voted them "Most Spirited."

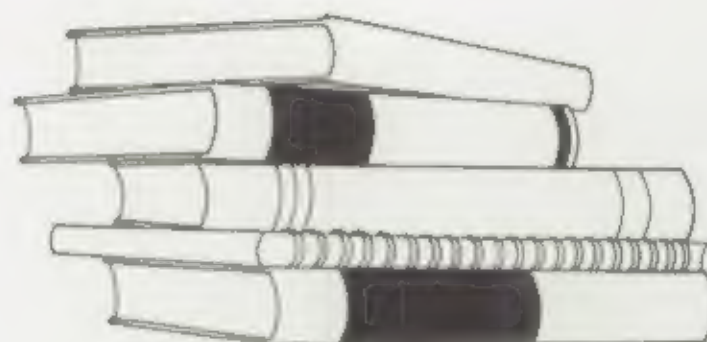

MOST ATHLETIC

Over the years, Tereasa Sauble and Stan Shive have been seen in some form of athletic activity from brilliant plays on the football field to last second lay-ups on the basketball court. It seems no matter what the sport Teresa and Stan always seem to excel. So it is for their outstanding athletic ability the senior class has recognized them as "Most Athletic."

CLASS BOOKWORMS

In every class there are always two people who seem to be reading. Ed Stehley and Mary Myers are two such people, it seems like every free moment these two have their noses are always in a book. If you would ever need to find them just check the library; chances are they're doing research or reading. It is because of their undying love for books that they have been voted as the "Bookworms" of the class of '85.

MOST ARTISTIC

Remember back in elementary school when we used finger paint to express our ideas? Well over the years, Kelly Kuhn and Lisa Decker have expanded their talents to most any form of art. Through their talent they can turn dreams into reality on canvas and it is because of their extraordinary talent that they have been nominated "Most Artistic."

CLASS CLOWNS

Picture a rainy Monday morning, and your mood is so somber you feel like nothing could cheer you up; but then here come Kevin and Karen, never without a smile or a good joke. They start you laughing and soon the day doesn't seem so bad. It is because of this special talent to make people laugh that Kevin Weaver and Karen Wolf have been voted "Class Clowns"; with these two around there is never a dull moment.

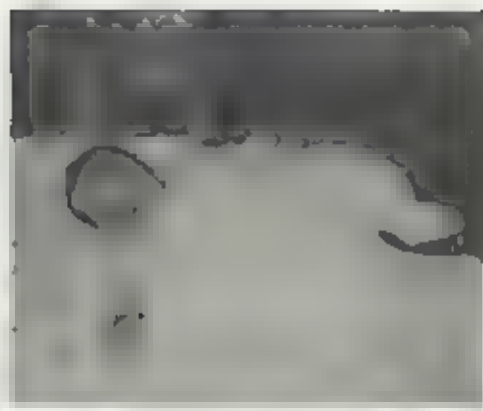

SHYEST

There are two people in the senior class that aren't the center of attention and the reason for this is because they are so shy. For this reason Tim Leonard and Eva Spertzel have been voted "Shyest" by the class of '85. After you break through the shy exterior, you'll find out that these two are really nice, friendly people

*A ship moaned in the distant night;
As it passed by and cast its bright,
Electric beam into the sky;
And pricked, pin-like, the snowy
Thickness of the air. Its throbbing tread
I felt throughout my iron-spined bed,
Making muted conversation,
Telling stories of its travels and exciting journey ahead.*

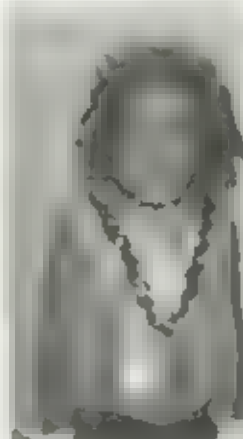

*Three flutes and six guitars
Sent their wistful melody
Through the warped and leaky windows
Of over-heated Number Three;
To which the fairy snowflakes danced
A minuet, whimsical, lovely, as gracefully
They twinkled past the bright street light . . .
Jeweled feet have never looked so light
As they; nor half so airy.*

Bronze church bells pealed. Their mellow tone
Floated peacefully, struck deeply, into the Wakeful silence of the city.
Here was beauty for the poor
With no begging at suburban door

A ship passed by and cast its bright light;
I heard the whistle drone last night
And it made me think of wondrous things.
As I glance over the horizon,
I stood still as a statue,
Hoping to find you there,
But as I gazed into the distance,
All that I viewed were clouds
That grew farther away,
Taking you with them, to a misty harbor.

The sophomores' class winning car

Band members discuss the game

Spirit week, prior to the 1984 homecoming football game, was brought to an end by one of Bermudian Springs' most enthusiastic pep rallies. The large amount of school pride was shown by the students after Coach Lawrence gave a speech regarding Bermudian's strong sense of unity. Later, the winners of the poster contest were announced. With 1st place, and a wall of magnificent posters were the seniors. Second place went to the sophomores, third place went to the freshman, and fourth place went to the juniors.

Friday night, everyone gathered in East Berlin and later York Springs for the traditional homecoming parades. Following the parades, everyone reassembled on the Bermudian Spring golf course for the bonfire.

Saturday, October 6, was the long awaited football game against Littlestown. The High School Marching Band opened the half time festivities with their dynamic selection, "Mambo." Next, the winners of the car contest were announced with the results as follows: Juniors were 1st, Freshmen were 2nd, Sophomores were 3rd, and Seniors were 4th.

Candidates for the Homecoming queen were Kelly Baker, Becky Lescalleet, Cyndi Lupo, Holly Rice, Teresa Sauble, Beth Schreck, Amy Spangler, and Barb Weigle. The retiring queen, Robin Anderson, crowned Cyndi Lupo the 1984 Homecoming Queen. The first runner-up was Beth Schreck, and Teresa Sauble was the second runner-up. The band concluded half time with an impromptu version of "Sun Cat."

Although we lost the football game by a final score of 17-16, we left the field with pride, knowing that we played a respectable game.

Homecoming was brought to a close by a spectacular Saturday night dance. The 1984 Homecoming showed more school spirit and good sportsmanship than Homecomings of previous years, making it a memorable occasion.

SENIORS SHOW LEADERSHIP EVERYWHERE

For the past four years, I have had the honor of serving as President of the class of 1985. During those years I have seen my fellow classmates grow and mature in many ways. Through happy times and sad times, we have grown strong together. We worked hard to fill each year of our high school days with the best of memories and we've more than succeeded in doing so. Soon we will join that ever growing group of alumni of Bermudian Springs High School, bound together by our Alma Mater. As members of that group, we will be ever proud of our school and always respectful of those who helped to guide us during these four years. To my classmates I would suggest that you reminisce about yesterday, hope for tomorrow, but live for today. To the remaining students here at Bermudian, Good Luck.

Respectfully,
Becky Lescalleet
Class President

CAPTAIN'S LOG

A log is an official record of a ship's voyage. The captain of the ship records facts such as weather, direction of travel. In our log, we've tried to capture as many memories as possible, as many views of the past school year as possible in the next three pages. Here at Bermudian the 1984-85 school year was a time to work and rest . . .

. . . be together

or sometimes sit alone . . .

. . . smile for photographers . . .

. . . or hide from them

. be in a hurry . . .

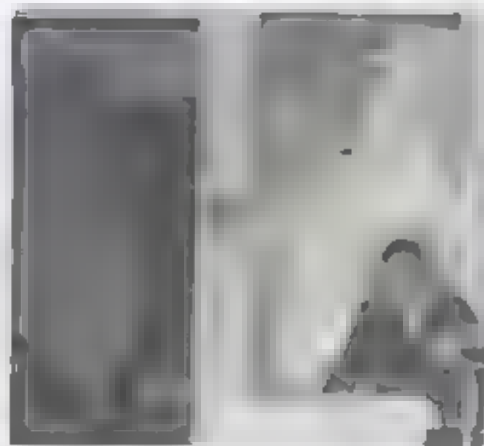

. . . and finally relax

IGNORING THE IMPENDING DARKNESS

*A wooden ship lies chained to a permanent shore, oblivious to the sunset behind her.
Sleepily, she dreams of youthful years - in a sea of thoughts
unchartered
Ignoring the impending darkness
she remains unchanged,
as her dreams melt
the chains freeing her to travel,
unguided,
into the black night.*

the long ride ahead:
Night Ranger glued to my ears,
and a soft pillow under my head.*

Varsity Football at Bermudian is a year round activity, starting with lifting weights and conditioning throughout the summer to the season itself. Coached by Gerald Lawrence the team produced another successful season. The squad finished the season with a record of 6-4, and played each game with as much pride, determination and enthusiasm as if it were the title game. The Eagles played tough and although they suffered some disappointments they never let down. Through their constant strive for excellence, the Eagle football team has helped establish an excellent reputation for athletics here at Bermudian and through their hard work and determination next years team should be a BML contender.

The JV Football squad was coached by Cliff Van-Artsdalen and Russ Greenholt, and achieved a record of 4 - 3. Although these players are the ones on the sidelines during Varsity competition, they always came through when it came time for them to show their skills. A Varsity team could not be successful if they didn't have ability on the sidelines as well as on the field. So it is to these players that we say Good Luck and carry out the Bermudian winning tradition.

BOYS BASKETBALL

The 1984-85 boys Varsity basketball team started its season with high hopes. The boys spent many long hours practicing and trying to improve their game. The team was coached by Mike Kirkpatrick and Jeff Davidson and although the season started with many setbacks the team continued to improve with each game. The team was led by Seniors Dave Shultz, Tim Leonard, Stan Shive, and Mike Hebe. Their leadership proved to be the extra edge the team needed to pull off some tough games. Next year's team looks to be very promising with experienced people returning to fill the four vacant positions.

The girls Varsity basketball team started with high hopes as they were in contention for the BML title. Practicing diligently every night and playing each game with much spirit and enthusiasm. The team was under the coaching of Mr. Dismuke and Mr. Vanartsdalen. The team experienced few setbacks and continued to improve with each game. The team was led by seniors Barb Heid, Teresa Sauble, Wendy Reese, and Tracy Shank. These four have seen Varsity action for four years and although they will be missed next year; the team should be able to continue the winning tradition that has been established over the years.

Individual effort is needed in this grueling sport. It takes hard work and a constant desire from each team member to produce a win for the team. The Eagle matmen are coached by Dave McCullum and Doug Niebel, who have made our teams successful over the years. Through strenuous practices and watchful dieting our wrestlers have won many matches and many team members have wrestled into the District sectionals. Through their spirit and determination the 1984-85 season proved to be a successful one.

With two returning starters and several promising newcomers, the 1984-85 Chess Team hopes to improve on last year's 5-5 record. Buoyed by senior Roger Miller and junior Jon Kump, the Chess Team should be very competitive this year with the addition of sophomores Darren Harbold and Kevin Thomas, and freshman Shaun Eyster. Alternates this year will include Greg Lerew, Lee Roe, Ron Garrison and Alan Stoner.

PARENT'S DAY

Mike Helle with his biggest fans

Parent's Day was held on October 20, 1984. This day was set aside by the "B" Club to honor the parents of the Bermudian Springs football players, cheerleaders, and trainers for their time and support which helps in making the athletic program here at BSHS successful. The day ended on a happy note with a win over Gettysburg

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

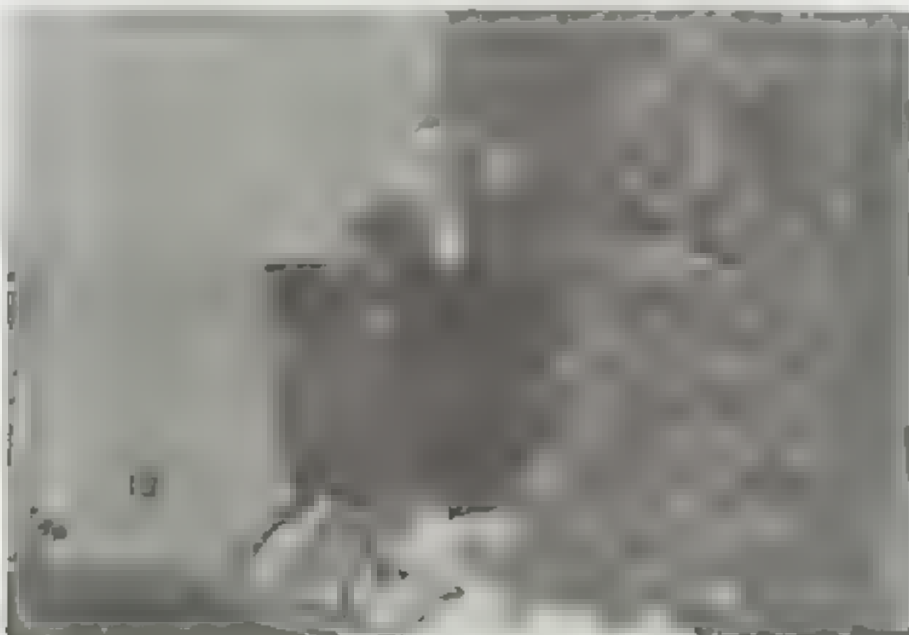

The Sopranos sing out

The annual Christmas Concert was held on December 16, 1984 and featured both the band and chorus, under the direction of William School and Mrs. Jane Johnston.

The chorus provided a very diverse arrangement of numbers, ranging from a song sung in Latin, "Gloria in Excelsis", to one sung in Spanish, "Pastores A' Belen", featuring soloists Martha Grim and Tammy Spangler. In conclusion the choir performed the familiar "Joy to the World;" this number was enhanced by the brass quartet.

Following the choir's performance, two numbers were performed by the Madrigal Singers, a small group of students whose voices blended together artiscally to help create a joyous mood

The band performed "The First Noel", featuring a trumpeter solo by Tracy Shank. Their next selection was "An Old English Christmas," featuring the trumpet section; and to conclude their portion of the program, they performed the dynamic "Symphonic Prelude on Adeste Fidelis."

Following the Senior Band's portion of the program, the audience took part in the singing of a traditional Christmas carol, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear."

The chours then returned to the stage and selected students performed a comical skit to the famous childrens' story, "'Twas the Night Before Christmas." This number featured a series of soloists and, of course Santa Claus.

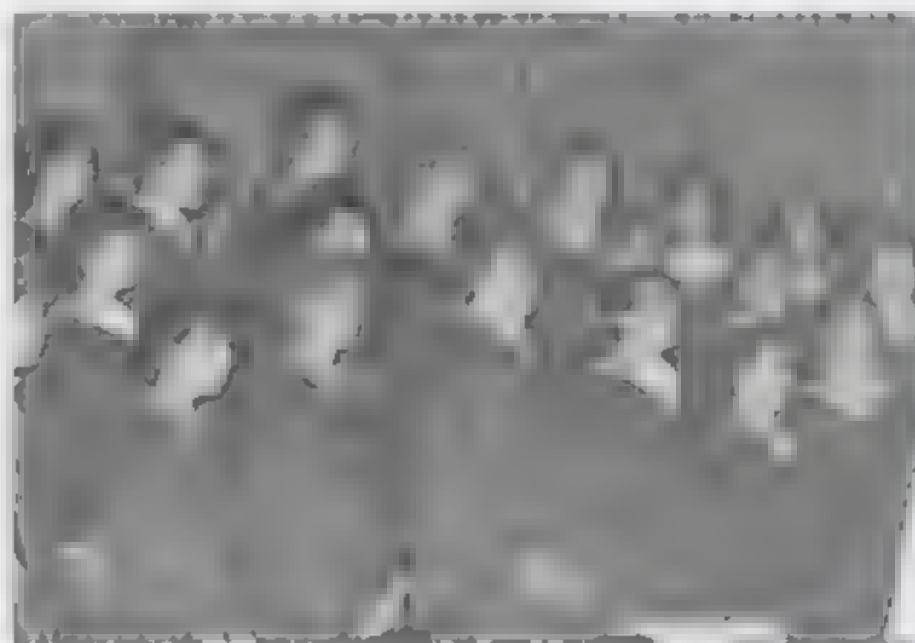

To conclude the program, the band and chorus performed the combined number "Do You Hear What I Hear" and the traditional "Hallelujah Chorus" featuring the combined efforts of the band, chorus, and alumni. The concert was a huge success.

DANCES

This years dances were once again sponsored by the Student Council. The homecoming dance was largely attended, which set a trend for the rest of the year. The Halloween dance saw Rich Farlow crowned as the Halloween King, and the Christmas Dance was visited by a special man dressed in red and white. The popularity and success of this years dances will hopefully keep growing at the same rate in the future as it has this past year.

MUSIC

Director Mr. William School

This past year marks a milestone in the history of bands at BSHS.

Our band started it's marching season with some apprehension but after the first competition at Hanover H. S. where the band placed 1st in the American Conference, it's members know now that this was only the beginning of a great season. With precision, excitement and pride the band achieved high honors in every thing they attended:

*Hanover Competition - First place
 South Western Competition - 2nd place
 Northern Competition - First place
 Cedar Cliff TOB Competition - 2nd place
 Cavalcade of Bands Championships - 6th place
 Hanover Halloween Parade - 5th place
 Gettysburg Halloween Parade - 1st place*

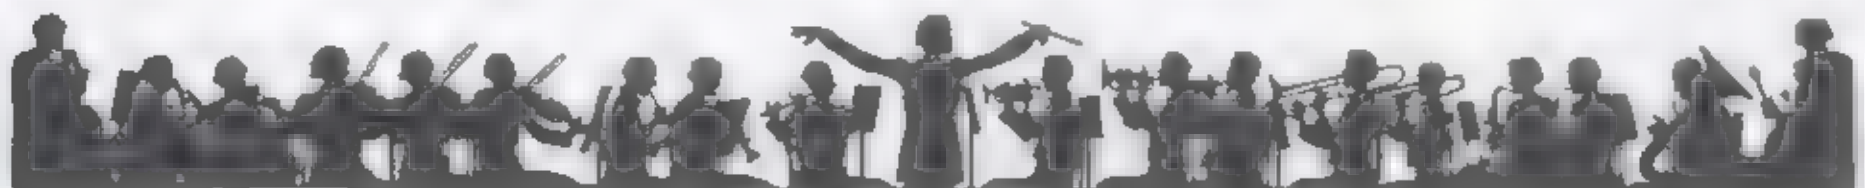

Our band has reached this high level of musical excellence through the hard - work and dedication of not only the student, parents and administration but also of Mr. William "Bill" School. Without his enthusiasm, dedication and hard work the band could not have achieved the successes it has.

The band also performs a Christmas concert and Spring Concert, and host an adjudication for Jazz Bands in this area. Also this year the band will be accompanying the chorus on trip to New York city in April of 1985.

The 1984-85 Eagle Jazz Band is a well balanced group with lots of experience. Jazz Band is considered a club, but many hours outside of club periods are spent rehearsing and performing. Activities the band include participating in jazz competitions, performing in public events when asked, and hosting the annual Bermudian Springs jazz festival.

CHORUS

Director Mrs. Jane Johnston

The Senior Chorus practices four days a week singing all types of music and determined to be the best they can be. Throughout the year the chorus performs two concerts; sings at Hershey Park, Candy Lane and performs a musical. In which 95% of it's 94 members participate in, in some form or another. Under the direction of Jane Johnston the chorus has established an excellent reputation for excellance and is continuing to grow and improve.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

The past decade has been a period of positive growth for students of Bermudian Springs High School. While our students at home were excelling in academic and co-curricular programs, past graduates reported that they were doing well in college work and other post-graduation activities. At the same time, other schools were making similar progress and society in general was demanding higher skills and greater intellectual abilities for survival in the adult world

As our graduates leave Bermudian Springs, they will meet the realities of an upwardly mobile society constantly on the move to do bigger and better things. Using our recent history as a guide, I feel that the 1985 Class of graduating seniors will have the abilities and the spirit of competition which will lead them to success in attaining their chosen lifetime goals.

To the Class of 1985

There are many quotes that are appropriate to your book's theme which one can tie to a message aimed at students looking forward to graduation. One such quote which caught my eye is attributed to William Penn who said, "take care where there is more sail than ballast."

It would be exceedingly difficult to move through a life, with any quality, if one does not have the proper amount of sail. You can liken such things in your life as aggressiveness, persistence, adaptability, personal magnetism, charm, fun and good times to the sails of a ship. And make no mistake about it, these things are important. They are important to you now and will continue to be so in the future just as surely as sails are important to certain ships.

But a ship must also have ballast to keep it on an even keel and to help it displace the proper amount of water so that it rides smoothly when the seas are turbulent, so that it will not easily run adrift with the wind. Your ballast, that counterbalancing weight against the pull of a full sail, which will help to smooth out the rough spots in life and keep you heading in the right direction, consists of such qualities as love of God and family, lasting friendships, loyalty and integrity. Personal ballast also contains goodly measures of patriotism, dedication and the ability to remain steadfast in the face of adversity.

In my estimation you are prepared to meet the challenge of establishing the right proportion of sail and ballast as you begin a new phase of your life. You will certainly need both sail and ballast to be happy and successful. Take care about which becomes the more important to you.

Best wishes to each of you

Robert M. Reed

To the Graduating Class of 1985:

Each year a group of young adults receive their diplomas indicating that they have completed successfully the requirements necessary to graduate. Graduation has traditionally illustrated a preparedness for the adult society. Throughout your twelve years of public education, you have been taught the basic skills and developed the self-discipline necessary for success. Now you must apply those skills in the complexity of adulthood.

Occasionally graduates erroneously consider their learning completed following graduation. Actually you have only completed a few stages in your life.

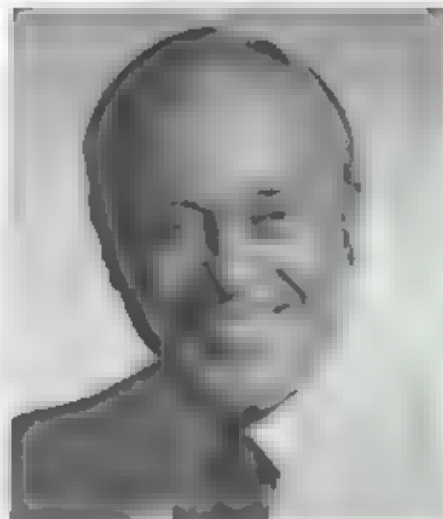

Winston Churchill once stated, "To every man there comes in his lifetime that special moment when he is figuratively tapped on the shoulder and offered that chance to do a very special thing, unique to him and fitted to his talents. What a tragedy if that moment finds him unprepared or unqualified for that work." In this brief message, Churchill emphasizes the importance of continual learning. You have built the foundation for your life. Now you must complete the structure, so that you will continue to grow, and when that moment arrives, you will be ready.

I would like to congratulate you for the successful accomplishments that you had with us and wish you the best for your future.

TO THE SENIORS_____

*If you can learn to live your life completely and never waste a day that comes to you,
If you can make decisions most discreetly and live by them and always see them through*

*If you can judge each person you'll be meeting as just one individual alone,
If you can keep all bias from defeating the goal that people's rights are all their own . . .*

*If you can be ambitious but not greedy and stand by all the things you know are right,
If you can share with everyone who's needy and learn that strength is not the same as might . . .*

*If you can see beyond the storm the lining and see some good where good is hard to find,
If you can keep from ever undermining the dream that what you seek is what you'll find . . .*

*If you can be the person God intended and see inside yourself the beauty there,
If you can let your hand reach out extended and give and take with those whose life you'll share . . .*

*If you can do these things and learn a lesson that if you fail you have to try once more,
Then life will be a marvelous expression
Of every happiness you're searching for.*

Rolling sands and restless sea . . .
All these things mean nothing to me.
I've lived in a town all my life,
Amid its joys, amid its strife.
Where the children laugh and play,
And grown-ups have lots to say,
Crowded roads are lined each way,
Carrying the people to work and play.
Yes, these things mean more to me
Than the rolling sands
And the restless sea
So I will live all my life,
Amid its joys and in its strife,
To befriend those who live here too,
To help them as they see things through.
Far from the sea, I am destined to roam
That others may find,
in my heart, a home.

J.W. wagner

Every serious artist knows that excellence comes only as the result of determination and commitment that it must be sought every day and that there is no time off without loss.

We all do well to follow the example of these dedicated individuals. At Commonwealth National Bank we value such determination, and we strive to make it part of our uncommon commitment to best meet the needs of southern Maryland residents.
